

NEW-YORKISM.

From Our Own Correspondent. New York, Nov. 11, 1869.

The Flunkies' Fizzle. In an unguarded moment yesterday I made a remark for which I find it difficult to forgive myself, viz.—That the occasion which was to celebrate the unveiling of the Vanderbilt bronze promised to be worth attending. The very earnest and serious representations made to me induced me to allow that intimation to escape me. Fully awake to the undignified nature of print, and to the publicity given to my statement by the circulation of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, I herewith publicly deplore the inadvertency. I clothe myself in sackcloth and ashes, so to speak, and in this public manner request condonation. The unveiling of the statue was worth looking at, and nothing else was worth a tinker's imprecation. Invitations were issued for about two thousand people and accommodations furnished for about one hundred. So large was the crowd that Augustus Schell and the Hon. Oakey Hall were ousted out, and a long array of distinguished citizens summarily treated. The collation consisted of cider-punch and portman's pound-cake. These were intended for the barbarians, those who constituted the assembly at large, including Augustus Schell, the Mayor, and the distinguished citizens above alluded to. For the members of the press special accommodations were provided. Special? O yes! The press had done so much for Commodore Vanderbilt and his right-hand man, Captain Albert Degroot, that it had a separate table all alone by itself. What was on this table I don't know. It may have been cider and pound-cake; it may have been something stronger than the one and soldier than the other. I can't pretend to say. My agents were posted there, but, like reporters at a fashionable wedding, "were unable to gain the particulars." One big cake was visible, and that was grabbed for by at least fifty hands. The tagging and bobtail of the Bohemian press were there, scallawags who are standing institutions—free lunches, and whose normal condition, if they can be said to have any, is that of being permanently "on the make." The few newspaper people of standing who were present—and there were some, who had been seduced under the delusion that the entire affair was a dignified public concession to Commodore Vanderbilt's claims to greatness—were too disgusted to remain long. Mr. William Rosa Wallace (who writes for the New York Ledger) recited an ode, as well as the circumstances with which he was encumbered permitted him to, and an extremely long introductory prayer was made by a clergyman, whose well-educated palate probably warned him that there was no temptation to hurry. The whole affair was a fizzle, not superinduced by Commodore Vanderbilt himself, but by the flunkies who came between him and it.

Five Points House of Industry. During the year which is to expire next Thursday (Thanksgiving Day), there have been over 1000 inmates of that house. Of these more than 1200 have been furnished with situations or returned to their friends; nearly 1200 children have been taught in the schools; 4000 meals have been furnished; 100,000 lodgings; 10,000 garments; 1500 pairs of shoes; 150,000 pounds of bread, and corresponding quantities of meal, vegetables, and meat. I walked through the institution the other morning, and could not help being interested in the charitable abstracts that were put before me. The whole number of inmates of the House since its organization is nearly 18,000, and two-thirds of these are children. Nearly all the very small children are adopted out, and the larger ones are placed in farmers' families. At the present time the House is daily furnishing 1000 meals, and its weekly bill of fare consists of bread, beef, mutton, heavy bean and vegetable soups, hominy, bread and coffee. Monthly expenses are about $2000, and the House is open and the schools are continued through the entire year without vacations. A. J. BABA.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The City Amusements. AT THE CHESTNUT BOYS will be performed this evening. Miss Lecoe comes to the relief of the critics and the public, and gives the important information that this piece was dramatized from a novel by the Hon. M. Gordon by Hon. M. Gordon. It was on the London stage under the title of 'The School for Scoundrels'; it was brought to America by Bonicant, and produced at Wallack's Theatre in 1857, and was afterwards adapted to the stage of other cities under the title of 'Gilt'. It is pleasant to know who the author of this remarkable piece is, so that no innocent person will be suspected. We can imagine, however, that even Bonicant could turn out such a perfectly worthless performance. AT THE WALKER THEATRE will be performed this evening, with Miss Lucille Western's 'Gaily Labeled.' 'East Laidie' will be performed for the last time tomorrow, for Miss Western's benefit. There will be a matinee on Saturday, when the 'Tobacco-Leaf Man' will be performed. AT THE ARCH, this evening, 'Lost at Sea' will be performed. AT DUFFY & BENEDICT'S OPERA HOUSE a first-rate musical performance will be given this evening. AT THE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE a variety of burlesque attractions will be offered this evening.

HERMANN will have his first benefit in America this evening. He is a most interesting and interesting variety of attractions. Hermann will introduce an entirely new programme, which will include some of his most wonderful and intricate pieces of music, and Madame Hermann will give several original selections. This lady is reported to be an unusually fine singer, and her appearance will be an event of interest. Hermann is a remarkable performer, and we hope that the public will show their appreciation of his talents by crowding the Academy of Music this evening. On Saturday there will be a grand matinee for the accommodation of families. THOMPSON'S ORCHESTRA will give its first grand concert at Concert Hall this evening. This orchestra is composed of the best instrumental talent of New York, and under the direction of Mr. Thompson it has been brought to a high state of perfection. Its reputation is deservedly very high, and the three concerts to be given this evening, to-morrow, and on Saturday should receive the most liberal patronage. A first-rate programme will be presented this evening, and the concert will be made most interesting by the performance of the 'Mars' and 'Mars' by Mendelssohn's Concerto for the piano, No. 1. E. flat. Messrs. Welner and Schmitz will perform a serenade for the flute and French horn, by THIERS. The FRANKO CHILDREN will appear to-morrow and Saturday evenings at the Assembly Building, in grand musical entertainments. These children are said to be very strong and healthy, and their performances will doubtless be up to a high standard of excellence. Madame Henrietta Behrens will appear at both concerts. On Saturday there will be a family matinee. The following programme will be presented this evening:—

- PART FIRST. 1. Il Trovatore—Grand Fantasia Brillante. Alard played by Sam, accompanied by the piano by Selma. 2. Song—"Lover and Bird." Gallicolo. Madame Henrietta Behrens. 3. "Invitation a la Danse." Ronde Brillante. Weber. Arranged for two pianos by E. W. Bauer. Played by Selma and Jeanette. 4. Meditation, for solo and piano. Chopin. Played by Naban, Rachel, Sam, and Jeanette, accompanied by Selma. 5. Song—"Salvatore." Madame Henrietta Behrens. 6. Souvenir di Bellini—Fantasia Brillante for violin. Played by Sam, accompanied by Selma. 7. Piano solo—"Joyful and Sorrowful." Winners. For the left hand. Played by Selma. Note.—The playing with the left hand by Selma of this solo was received with the utmost enthusiasm in New York, and had to be repeated three times. 8. "L'Estasi di Anna." Madame Henrietta Behrens. 9. Solo, violin—Burlesque variations on Yankee Doodle. Played by Selma. 10. Variations for four violins—"God Save the Queen." Played by Jeanette, Sam, Rachel, and Naban, accompanied by Selma.

THE GERMAN OPERA.—The season of German Opera announced to commence next week at the Academy of Music, under the direction of Mr. H. Grau, promises to be most enjoyable. The combination of artists is a strong one, and there is every assurance that the performances will be unusually excellent. The repertoire is one of unusually high character, and the works are such as have permanently established themselves in the favor of the public. The chorus and orchestra will be selected with care, and will be under the direction of Messrs. Carl Anschutz and Walter Rietz. The price of subscription tickets is very low, being but eight dollars for the eight nights and one matinee, with secured seats. Tickets can now be procured at Trumpler's. The SESTI-HASSLER ORCHESTRA will give a matinee at Musical Fund Hall on Saturday.

PAV' HAW DISCOVERED! is the exclamation of every lady who has recently ventured to apply the ordinary hair dyes or "colorers" or "restorers" to her whitening ringlets. And she is scarcely more than half-way through the process of VITALE OIL SALVATION FOR THE HAIR. Nothing does its freely flowing crystal. There is no sediment, no gum, no lead, no arsenic, and its operation perfect. What a discovery!
